Official Paper of the City. A Factions Course.

There are unmistakable evidences that the administration will encounter the opposition of what remains of the democratic party in its new policy towards the seceded states. After complaining of the administration while it was apparently standing still, and ridiculing it as a simple copyist of Buchanan's policy, now that a decisive policy has been adopted, and an attempt will be made to assert the power of the government, the tone is changed and wry faces with doleful laments made over the horrors of civil war and the precipitancy of President Lincoln and his administration in inciting a collision. They will hold the administration as aggressors and responsible for the lamentable or ruinous consequences that may ensue. All the troubles and losses in our currency have been already charged upon the republican party, and the same course will be adopted with reference to the movements instituted by the administration to save the government and protect its besieged officers and property. There will be no denunciation of the men who have defied the power and instituted a war upon the Union and the government; but the administration and the north will receive curses without stint and little regard to quality or character.

The object of this change of conduct is apparent. They liope to revive the demoeratic party, and attach to it such republicans as they can mislead or who are watching for a good opportunity to change their political relations. A reconstruction of parties, where they can be in no worse condition than they are now, and may possibly be in a better, is a dearer object to them than the preservation of the integrity of the Union and the perpetuation of the government. Party, with them, is above Country, and Policy higher than Principle. Patriotism is secondary to self-interest, and political power and influence more desirable than the public welfare and national reputation, at home or abroad.

We hope we may be mistaken in this estimate of the character and designs of the by the youth, which will never be eradicademocratic party, and that it may exhibit ted from their minds in after life. more love of country than love of party; but we must confess that the indications are not very hopeful for anything else than a of the teachers are seconded by the patrons vigorous display of its worst characteristics of the schools, no one can estimate the inand essential elements.

A Beneficial Effect.

We have believed from the commencement of our national troubles that a discreet and wise use of the power of the government in maintaining the possession of the forts yet in possession of the government, and enforcing the collection of the revenue, would strengthen the genuine Union men in the border states, and develope, because it would show the ability to protect the true men of the south, the genuine Union sentiment in those states. With these views, we cordially endorse the Chicago Tribune when it says-" The most sagacious politicians of the country are grievously mistaken, if a vigorous display of the other classes did surpassingly well. material force on the part of the govern- The compositions and declamations were ment does not produce a healthful moral effect upon the people of the border states. That found, and the trouble, except the cotton states, which are treasonable from choice, would be at an end."

A GOOD MOVEMENT.-We are glad to learn that petitions are in circulation in Chicago for the removal of John R. Jones, the U.S. marshal for the northern district. of Illinois. If a tenth-part of what is alleged against him in connection with the arrest of the Harris family is true, he is utterly unworthy of the position he holds. The fugitive slave law is bad enough when executed with all the decency and humanity the circumstances will allow, but when secrecy, deception and violence are combined with an arrest, the officer executing the writ exhibits better qualifications for n plantation overseer than for a responsible and honorable office in a community of freemen. We earnestly hope that the circumstances in this case will be investigated, and if Jones has conducted the arrest in the manner charged, he ought to be "wiped out" as a nuisance among decent men and a disgrace to a republican admin-

Grammar School Examination.

Another pleasing opportunity has been afforded the citizens of Janesville, in visiting the various schools of the city at their annual examination and in learning the progress which has been made since the last similar occasion.

Those who were present could not but have been highly interested in the mental exercises, evincing not only the close application of most of the students, to the different branches of education they are pursuing, but, pre-emineutly, the superior system of instruction adopted by those who have charge of the schools. No one, who will take the pains to examine the system now adopted for the instruction of the youth. of our country, and compare it with that which was formerly pursued, can fail to percieve the vast superiority of the present over the former, not only in the rapid progress now made in obtaining knowledge, but also, in the systematic habits acquired

Everything in our city schools moves along like clock-work, and where the efforts valuable results which will follow.

Having had an opportunity of observing the exercises in the "grammar school" on examination day, it may not be improper to mention some of them. The classes in mental arithmetic did themselves great honor in the promptness exhibited in their answers to many difficult problems given them to solve, and the writer must acknowledge his inability, in many cases, to arrive at a correct result as quickly as some of the young lads and misses did, and many older heads would be vastly puzzled to work them out at all. The members of the grammar class are equally deserving of praise for the thorough knowledge they have acquired of that important branch of education. All good and the singing most excellent. In fact, in the different branches of education J. B. K.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE. BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE,

TO-DAYS REPORT. Jefferson county official-Knowlton's

Jefferson count, majority is 1133. CHARLESTON, April 10. Wigfall, Chestuut, Mears and McGowan have received appointments in Gen'l Beauregard's staff. A large number of the members of the convention after adjournment, volunteered as privates. 7.000 troops are now at the fortifications.

Washington, April 10. Of the number of national guards only half consented to be mustered. The reason for this, as in other similar cases, was that some of the men were apprehensive they could be ordered to some point beyond the limits of the District of Columbia, while others were unwilling to take the oath which might compel them to fight against Maryland and Virginia and other southern states. It is said they were informed that the oath must be taken unconditionally, and the infraction of which exposed them to punishment under the rules, and articles of war. Capt. Carrington's company of 80 men were mustered into service to a man. The accepted companies have already been placed on duty. .

A military department formed of Maryland and the District of Columbia is to be established with Col. C. F. Smith commandant, and Capt. Talbot adjutant. Sherman's artillery from Fort Rigley, Minn., and two companies of cavalry are expected here to morrow.

The president has appointed George M.

RICHMOND, April 10. The extreme Unionists in the convention say they are not to be moved by telegraphic despatches, and indicate that they will stand by the government if the steamers are attacked. The conservatives entertain different sentiments. The convention amended the 13th resolution and passed it. It is as follows:

In the opinion of this convention the people of Virginia will regard any action of the federal government coercing the confederate states as tending to produce a collision of forces, pending the efforts to effect an adjustment of existing difficulties, as unwise and injurious to the interests of both, and they would regard any such action on the part of either as leaving them free to determine their own future policy. Convention adjourned.

New York, April 11.

A Times' despatch from Washington says it is understood on good authority that the government and Maj. Anderson will demand explanation from Gov. Pickens for refusing to allow Lieut. Talbot to return to Fort Sumter. South Carolina will be held responsible as it is not the intention of the president to treat with Jeff. Davis or the infederacy officially.

The southern commissioners leave to norrow morning for the south.

The Tribune's despatch says 3,000 or ,000 men are known to be enrolled at Baltimore ready for any desperate design which may promise reward. Measures have been nay promise reward. Measures have taken to break up this low organization.

He remark ed "we will then see whether they dare to fire upon an unarmed vessel to provision our starving soldiers." He expressed but little hope of the preservation of peace but evinced a decided determination to relieve Maj. Anderson, and hold the other forts at all hazards.

Despatches from Montgomery say that Jeff. Davis is considering the propriety of going to Charleston.

President Lincoln says he has positive knowledge that an attack on Washington is n contemplation. He has communicated this information to several governors of northern and western states. It is undermoment' swarning.

It is understood that Gov. Curtin will call out the Penusylvania volunteers on the least sign of danger for the occupation of the capital.

Bank and Monroe Co. Bank.

STILL ANOTHER.-Yesterday we alluded to the removal of Jackman & Smith's corner building, and to-day we chronicle another "old settler" in progress of disappearance. Workmen are engaged in tearing down what has long been known as "Bennett's Head Quarters." This building was erected by E. H. Bennett in the spring of 1845, and was then regarded as a very promising indication of the growth of the village. The work was commenced in March and the building completed in May. Mr. Hanchett, who was then waiting with a company of men to build the upper dam, was employed to dig the cellar; J. M. Burgess and Alfred Dewey had the contract for the joiner work. This was the first job of light and prices unchanged. work done in Janesville by Burgess, who has since become a public man in various capacities, and is now the appointee to the post office in the place of which he was one of the earliest settlers. It may also be noticed, as a passing incident, that two of the brothers of Alfred Dewey (Horace and Martin) are now engaged in pulling down what he helped erect sixteen years ago, and one of them (Horace) is half owner of the lot and the new building to be constructed in place of the old "Quarters." The brick used in the old building were the first made in Janesville, and were sold to Mr. Bennett by Gen. Sheldon who designed them for a dwelling for himself.

The occupants of the "Head Quarters" have been somewhat numerous during a few years past. Mr. Bennett occupied the building from May 1845 to October 1851, and conducted a large and successful business. He was succeeded by Stevens & Older, and then came Rothchild & May, Ira P. Ballou, I. Deitsch, McKey & Bro., and Plympton & Scarcliff.

The new building to be put up by Jenkins & Dewey will be two three-story stores, and constructed in a style equal to any in the city.

ARRIVED .- Mr. Ryan and his company bave arrived, and the theatre will open tonight at Lappin's Hall. To-morrow evening no entertainment will be given, as Mr. Ryan has yielded the use of the hall for the high school exhibition. This company has given great satisfaction wherever it has had an engagement, and we hope it will be liberallr supported by our citizens. The use of the hall to-morrow evening for the school exhibition was cheerfully yielded, we are informed, and such an act deserves a proper acknowledgement.

THEATRE IN MILWAUKEE .- People from this vicinity who visit Milwaukee during the coming week will find the theatre there a pleasant resort. Mr. Murdock and Miss Susan Denin, both actors of high reputation, are engaged, and well supported by a good stock company.

A SURPRISE.—Yesterday while a man was working in a well, at a depth some say of fifty feet, he was surprised by the descent of a woman upon his head. The woman was passing the well, and not noticing it, stepped into it and went down with more speed than usually characterized her movements until she landed in the manner indicated. She was more frightened than hurt, but the man was considerably injured.

CAPSIZED .- As Mr. Geo. M. Scott and two other men were going down the river this forenoon in a boat, the boat came in contact with one of the piers of the upper bridge, and a general spilling out was the consequence. The men succeeded in getting upon the pier and thence to the shore, while the boat floated down the river badly
